 UNIVERSITÄT
 HALLE-WITTENBERG

UNIVERSITY INFORMATION

Martin Luther University Halle -Wittenberg is located in one of Germany's greenest cities, and has a truly international outlook. The history of Martin-Luther-Universität Halle-Wittenberg (MLU), goes back over 500 years. (one of the oldest universities in Germany), MLU was established in 1817 with the union of the University of Wittenberg (founded in 1502) and the University of Halle (1694) and is named after Martin Luther, the father of the Protestant Reformation, who studied theology at the University of Wittenberg. Today, about 20,000 students are enrolled at the university, studying around 260 degree programmes, Bachelor's, Master's as well as State Examination programmes. You will find modern campus facilities, about 20 libraries and modern equipment for studying in Halle. Renowned university rankings continue to place MLU among the strongest schools- a testament to its high-quality teaching. The university collaborates with renowned institutes such as the Max Planck Institute. Industry experts regularly join the ranks of MLU's teaching staff to ensure a practical, applications-orientated academic experience for the students. Sports as well as cultural activities will ensure a colourful student life at MLU!
